TJCII Europe's Educational Formation Center

The former home of Fr. Peter Hocken in Hainburg, Austria was renovated and will be TJCII Europe's Educational Formation Center.

The Formation Center is scheduled to open this April 2019. The Center will provide teachings on the vision, core values, history and methodology of TJCII as a way to train and inform aspiring NOW Generation leaders from different countries.

A 5-week program will be offered to the NOW Generation leaders from different countries. Courses will include Jewish and Christian history, the nature of Messianic Judaism and Christian denominations, the error of replacement theology and its tragic consequences, reconciliation and unity through the spiritual work of TJCII.

Two of TJCII's International Leadership Council (ILC) members, Deacon Johannes Fichtenbauer and Canon Brian Cox will serve as advisors. The entire Executive Board of TJCII will also serve as visiting faculty to teach on focused topics.

The NOW Generation leaders of TJCII range in age from 20-45 and we invite you to either attend our classes or sponsor a student to be trained through this TJCII training center.
