TJCII Brazil Conference Update

By Rabbi Marty Waldman

I recently returned from traveling for TJCII in Brazil. After speaking eleven times in nine days I was tired, but it was worth it! One hundred and fifty people from eight countries attended our TJCII conference just outside of São Paulo. During the three-day conference, there were numerous speakers including both Messianic Jews and Christians who brought inspiring testimonies and teachings. I spoke multiple times on topics pertaining to TJCII, including the emergence of the Messianic Jewish community and the idea of “mutual blessing” between Jewish and Gentile believers. I addressed the topic of supersessionism (replacement theology) which is a particularly heinous theology that has negatively affected the Body of Messiah for centuries.

The TJCII message of reuniting Jewish and Gentile believers in Yeshua in anticipation of the Messiah's return was embraced by those in attendance. We gathered at a wonderful retreat center in the countryside and were hosted by a lovely Catholic community. In attendance were Catholics, Protestants, Evangelicals, Charismatics and Messianic Jews from Brazil, Argentina, Chile and many other countries. We were all quite moved by the presence of GOD's Spirit among us throughout the weekend.

Please watch the two short videos below for highlights from the São Paulo portion of this Brazilian journey. The first video presents a summary of the three-day conference while the second video is an interview with NOW generation individuals who are on fire for TJCII. Enjoy!
